TENNESSEE BRIBERY CASE ON TRIAL

Nashville, Tenn., June 23.—The case of Judge E. C. Goodpasture of Livingston, Tenn., who is charged by Representative J. Q. McDonald, a republican of Overton county, with having offered McDonald a bribe to vote with the "regular" democrats in the Tennessee legislature, was called in the Criminal court here today. McDonald, on the witness stand testified that he had several conversations with Judge Goodpasture, that Goodpasture said to him he wanted to talk with McDonald about voting in the legislature, and that Goodpasture wanted him to vote with the regulars, the witness testified. "He said he was in a position to handle the money for me and could get $5,000. He said they stated he could pay me $1,500, but for me to hold out and he could get more. He said I could take the money and go west; that it

BIG MONEY IF OKLAHOMANS WIN THE TEXAS PENANT

Oklahoma City, June 24.—It will be worth $3,000 for the Mets to win the Texas league flag if the plans of the sporting writers of the city and Joe Sabourin, formerly secretary of the Oklahoma City baseball association, are successful.

At a meeting held Friday at the cigar store of Sabourin it was de-

CRUCE APPOINTS SPECIAL ENFORCEMENT OFFICER

Oklahoma City, Ok., June 23.—Gov. Cruce today commissioned Rev. C. C. Brannon of Blackwell special deputy enforcement officer to work in connection with liquor sales to Indians. Rev. Brannon is also an assistant to "Pussyfoot" Johnson, chief enforcement officer of the United States interior department, in charge of the suppression of liquor from the Indian reservations. State Enforcement officer McLamore named M. Cavour special deputy for the Capitol Hill district of Oklahoma City.

NEW TURN IN THE LUMBER TRUST FIGHT

Chicago, Ill., June 23.—Fourteen secretaries of as many retail lumber dealers' associations, indicted by a special federal grand jury here today for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, constituted a new kind of trust, according to the attorneys who conducted the investigation. The retail lumber dealers, it was admitted at the close of the investigation, had no incorporation, no capital stock and did not try to control prices and prevent competition was common for a member of the legislature to sell out. If it ever came out I could deny it, and the people would believe me before they would believe him.

"I saw him lobbying at the Maxwell Hotel. Later, in Nashville, he told me he could not raise over $1,500. He said they had to buy some others. He said he had telegraphed a Chattanooga distiller to send the money."

Continuing his testimony, Representative McDonald said he told Goodpasture to write an agreement and he would sign it. He said Goodpasture signed it. Witness said he refused to sign a paper pledging himself to vote with the regular democrats. Attorney General Anderson here exhibited a promissory note for $1,500 alleged to have been signed by Goodpasture. Witness said he made the transaction public to let the people know there had been a corruption fund.

On cross examination, McDonald declared he had led on to trap Goodpasture. He testified that Congressman Sam Sells of Johnson City and Representative J. B. Johnson of Paris guaranteed the money for the runaways to Alabama. He said he had consented to publish the affair to justify the course of the legislative runaways.

cided to raise that amount as an incentive to the Mets to keep up the good work which has landed them on top of the percentage column and as a reward for bringing home the "haccon" Three thousand coupons will be issued at $1 each. All who wish to aid in the raising of the purse will be asked to fill out the coupon and deposit the same with the Night and Day bank. If the local team wins the penant then the coupons become due. If they finish second the signers may then pay the coupon or not as he sees fit. All the coupons are numbered and a duplicate is held by the subscriber. Governor Cruce will be asked to fill out No. 1 and Mayor Grant No. 2.

among themselves. Instead, they had what the attorneys say was a "trust of power," and sought to provide that all lumber should be sold to consumers only through retail dealers and not by wholesalers or manufacturers.

The men as secretaries of the retail associations constitute the lumber secretaries' bureau of information, incorporated in Illinois in 1905 and represent thousands of retailers.

PREPARING FOR THE MCLESTER BOOSTERS

The committee appointed to arrange for the McAlester boosters who will be here on the 29th, have had the matter in hand. It is planned to have the stores keep open later than usual that afternoon in order that the McAlester men may meet the business men of Ada, and if possible those who care to see the town will be taken out in autos. Every citizen of the town is one of a committee to meet the visitors and extend the glad hand.

Guest Bros. are having an awning placed in front of their store.

BOARD OF AFFAIRS WILL BE THE CAPITOL COMMISSION

Oklahoma City, June 23.—The first step toward the erection of a state capitol building by the board of affairs was taken Friday when Governor Cruce commissioned the members of the board as state capitol commissioners.

The members of the board of affairs called upon Governor Cruce in a body just before noon and departed members of both the board of affairs and the state capitol commission.

The governor stated in his letter to the old commission in which their resignation was advised that he was of the opinion that the capitol building could be erected by the board of affairs at less expense than by the commission. At that time it was the impression that the building of the capitol would be turned over to the board of affairs under their old commission, which gives them jurisdiction over the erection of public buildings of the state.

It was claimed by some in a position to know at time that the action of the legislature in creating a capitol commission was mandatory and that the office could not be abolished by the governor, while others claimed that the chief executive by removing the members of the commission could simply cause the places to remain vacant and then could be erected by other means.

It is understood that by commissioning the board of affairs as members of the capitol commission, the governor means to remove all technical objections to the power of the board to proceed under the legislative act providing for the erection of a capitol building at Oklahoma City.

WEWOKA ATTORNEY IS CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

Wewoka, Okla., June 24.—Tuesday of this week J. A. Baker of Wewoka, Okla., was called upon to give an appearance bond wherein he was charged with embezzling money which he had received as attorney representing the estate of Dinah Johnson deceased. It appears that H. M. Tate of Wewoka, Okla., was the executor of said estate, and that J. A. Baker had brought suit in his name to set aside some deeds which had been given to T. C. Phillips, the suit being in the district court at Wewoka, and that during the pendency of the suit Baker compromised with Phillips wherein he received $620. In the capacity of attorney in the case, and after receiving said money he, Baker, refused to turn same over to Tate as executor. Tate brought suit against Baker in the county court and recovered judgment against Baker for $500. From which Baker appealed. Baker acknowledged that he had spent $220 of the money received from the compromise with Phillips, and out of this transaction the information above referred to was filed against Baker, and caused him to be required to give bond in the sum of $1,500 for his appearance to answer to said charge of embezzlement.

ROOSEVELT AND OTHERS WILL BE AT OKLAHOMA CITY

Oklahoma City, June 23.—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president and commander of the famous Rough Riders of San Juan Hill in the Spanish American war, will very probably be in Oklahoma City on August 21 for a three days stay during the reunion of the Spanish American war veterans. The occasion is the gathering of soldiers who participated in the fight from every state in the union and all insular possessions of the United States.

Colonel Roosevelt is a member of the organization and has stated to the officials that unless unforeseen matters arise to prevent him from attending the reunion, he will be here. Visiting Oklahoma City at the same time will be General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, formerly a general in the war in the Philippines. An invitation has been extended to General Frederick Funston of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, to attend the event and he has accepted. General Funston while in the Philippines, was successful in capturing Aguinaldo, commander of the rebel forces.

A NEW SORT OF INSURANCE

Oklahoma City, Ok., June 23.—A proposed insurance company, which would insure banks against loss on notes should the maker of the note die before the instrument matures, applied to State Insurance Commissioner P. A. Ballard today for a license. Several prominent citizens of Lawton are back of the proposed company, which is a novelty in the insurance business so far as Oklahoma is concerned.

The insurance department is inclined to the opinion that the company could not be licensed except as a life insurance company, while the promoters of the company desire to be licensed as a credit insurance company. The department, however, has referred the matter to Attorney General West for an opinion.

Yesterday Bob Williams from the vicinity of Francis, entered a plea of guilty to disturbing the peace. Judge Barton gave him a fine of $10 and costs.

Prank of Canadian River.
Sickles, Ok., June 23.—Since the recent rise in the South Canadian River, Ralph Senn is now occupying an island farm. The river during the flood cut a new channel and now comes down on both sides of the Senn farm, leaving it an island. Herefore the farm was about half a mile from the river bank.

Young Folks Play 42.
Yesterday evening Mrs. Lura Skinner entertained a number of young people in honor of her nephew, Mr. C. H. Mathis of Corinth, Miss. After a round of 42 an ice course was served the guests.

The following were present: Misses Tolbert, Tinnon, McCormick, Sowers, Annie Mae Sims, Moss Wingo, Henderson and Messrs. Bailey Bobbitt and Presnal Suggs.

Konawa is planning for a big picnic and celebration July 1 and the Chief-Leader says they are expecting many Ada people over there to help celebrate.

GOSPEL TENT ON 16TH AND ASH

At the gospel tent corner 16th and Ash a large assembly was present last evening. The interest is growing and several have expressed a desire to be saved. The subject for last night was "Choosing for Christ." No time is spent in speculative theology, but the great matter of personal relation with Christ is urged.

The subject for tonight will be "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" This question will be answered from the Bible standpoint and will employ the inductive method, or in other words, it will not eliminate a single scripture which has any connection in the matter of salvation.

Sunday's Services.
At the tent Sunday's services will only be at the evening hour. The subject will be "Is the World Sick?"

GENERAL EVANS GROWS WORSE

Atlanta, Ga., June 23.—The condition of Gen. Clement A. Evans, former commander of the United Confederate Veterans, was not favorable today, according to members of his household. He was said to be slightly weaker if anything. The general is suffering from muscular rheumatism.

In Honor of Mrs. E. K. Higgins.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. J. T. Higgins and daughter, Mrs. W. N. Mays, received from 4:30 to 6:30 in honor of Mrs. E. K. Higgins, of McKenzie, Tenn. Mrs. Higgins, has, for several years, made annual visits to Mr. Higgins' parents, and her friends are numerous in this city.

The house was artistically decorated in ferns and cut flowers, the punch room was in yellow and the other rooms in pink.

The guests were greeted by Miss Fulton, Mesdames Beck and Ebey presented them to the receiving line: Mesdames J. T. Higgins, E. K. Higgins, W. N. Mays and J. T. Conn. Mrs. Hope invited them to the punch room, where Misses Sledge, Mason, Currie and Nance presided at the table. Miss Epperson stood at the door. Mesdames Simpson and King received in the music hall, where the music was immensely enjoyed; Miss Rosa Tobias accompanied Prof. Beck, violinist. Those who assisted in the dining room were Mesdames Biles, Sledge, Hale and Thompson. Delicious home made fruit sherbet with cake, was served. Mrs. Barney ushered to the next room where Mrs. Beard had charge of the regis-

FOR A TONIC NOTHING EQUALS S.S.S.

The need of a tonic in the Spring is almost universally recognized. We have learned that a weakened, run-down system means more than "Spring Fever," as we are accustomed to refer to the physical disturbances which come at this season. Bodily fatigue, fickle appetite, poor digestion, nervousness, lack of energy, etc., prove that the proper amount of nourishment is not being supplied to the body through the circulation. The stomach, bowels and digestive members are sluggish from lack of stimulating nutrition, and in consequence the entire body suffers from the effects of a poorly nourished constitution.

The recognized importance of pure blood in preserving health emphasizes the danger of a weakened circulation. The use of a real blood-purifying tonic when the system is deranged from lack of nourishment, will often prevent the development of some serious sickness, because weak systems cannot resist disease, while healthy, well nourished constitutions are able to ward it off.

Your S.S.S. in my opinion, is as good a medicine as can be had; it simply cannot be improved upon as a remedy to purify and enrich the blood and to invigorate and tone up the system. Last Spring my blood was bad and I was run down in health, and having seen your medicine highly advertised, I commenced its use. Today my blood is in fine condition and my general health is of the best. Am filling position as fireman of a large concern here, and if I was not in good physical condition it would be impossible for me to fill the place.

No medicine is of value as a tonic except one which purifies and enriches the blood, for until this is done the body will not receive its required stimulus and disease-resisting powers.

S.S.S. is the best Spring tonic because of its genuine ability and worth as a blood purifier. It builds up the depleted system in the true way, by purifying the blood and supplying an increased amount of nourishment to every portion of the body. S.S.S. removes all accumulations and impurities from the circulation, enriches the blood, and overcomes the unpleasant physical ailments that afflict at Spring time. It aids and improves the appetite, reinvigorates every fibre and tissue of the body and imparts healthful energy to all who are run down. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores.

"THE STORY OF AUNT TRESSIE LEE."

Written by Miss Mary Lyday, Boswell, Okla.

On a cold winter's night, around a fire side sat three;
Two little girls and their aunt Tressie Lee.
Their mother and father had gone down South,
So auntie had come to help keep house.
Now spoke up Dossie, the older of the two,
Tell us a story of your girlhood days, Please do.
Auntie was so pretty and they had often asked their mother why she was single still,
But mother's answer was, "She used to love one, but another she never will.

So auntie consented to tell them of her girlhood days.
For those days were happy at first, like the sunny rays.
When the question was asked, she tried hard to smile,
But she was thinking of the bygone days all the while.
She gazed into the fire and her black eyes sparkled
And she thought of some of those bitter memories, she almost startled
She was beautiful in spite of her careworn face;
And tonight she recalled every familiar scene and place.

While she was in her reverie so deep,
The children remind her of the story before they should fall asleep
So now the story she related to them I relate to you
Of how in her girlhood days she was always true.
When I was a little girl of just the age of five
I had a little cousin whose name was Symbil who had come to stay with us for awhile.
Her mother had died and her father had gone abroad,
So she came dressed in deep mourning, late in the fall.

Symbil was lovely indeed, as her golden curls over black dress fell,
And tears gathered in her violet blue eyes for the sad story to tell
We loved one another as dearly as could be,
And every day built our play houses under the elm tree.
Now we were young ladies for time had fled swiftly by.
And Symbil's father was to arrive home in just a short time.
It was in the month of June and we were preparing for his return;
How happy Symbil seemed, for to him her heart did yearn.

She was by a table standing with his photograph in hand,
While I was painting my favorite picture of the sands.
When the doorbell rang and a messenger boy came to tell,
That her father was killed in a shipwreck and lifeless to the floor she fell
As she fell her arm hit the arm of a chair,
And now blood was rushing over her black dress and golden hair,
For the family doctor we now sent, but he not being at home for a new one we went.

After three days she was conscious once more,
But for three months I stayed with her, for I loved her so.
After watching so long my health gave away.
So the Doctor took time about and took us driving each day
One day just before the Doctor came to take me for my drive Symbil looked at me with those wistful eyes and wished it was her time.
"Well Symbil dear, take my place, for I will gladly let you go,
You look like you need the rest more than I, so let me stay at home."
"No Tressie, you must go, for the pleasure I will not deprive you of."

Now I wondered if she loved the Doctor and the mystery began to solve.
On the drive I told the Doctor of what Symbil had said to me
"But the dear, I'm glad it's you," He had rather have me it seemed.
The Doctor thought me beautiful and loved me with a love that was great
But he acted in friendly way and his love did not insinuate,
He only loved Symbil as a beautiful child.
How Symbil loved him he little dreamed of all the while.
While on this drive he told of his devotion,
And asked me to consider and give him my notion.

The next day I received a letter and also a ring,
Saying, "If you will be mine wear it, if not return same."
Oh how I love him and how happy seemed my life, Little did I dream of how that night I would battle with strife.
I was so happy all day until I seemed entranced,
I did not tell Symbil during the day and night shadows fell at last.
After we had gone to bed, Symbil said, "Tressie, I have something to tell you
I love the Doctor dearly he's so much like father" and tears bedimmed her eyes of blue.

If he will only love me all shadows from my life will fall,
Do you think Tressie that he cares for me at all.
My heart within me was bursting for this innocent child,
And I said "yes I think he will love you dearly after awhile"
Words cannot express what a restless night I did spend,
The next day I would have returned the ring, for if I kept it, would be a sin.
Oh how I loved him but now I must leave
For if I went away perhaps his love to her would cleave.

The next day I returned the ring and did not give my reasons why,
How I hated to do this and for him my heart did cry.
The next week I off to College went and Symbil stayed at home,
For she was very weak and not able to go.
Oh the anguish now my heart endured,
One will never know, for in my heart 'tis locked secure.
After I left he realized how dearly Symbil him, loved
So they were married and when I read the lines my eyes with tears grew dim.

He loved her as he would a child wife,
And made her happy all through life.
I would not let him hear or even know where I stayed,
But years after I heard of their little daughter who Tressie
Lee was named.
Just about two years ago I heard of Symbil's death.
Now children this is my story so go to bed and rest.
In a few days their father and mother returned.
While they were away they met the doctor and he about her whereabouts learned.

For the past two years he had been in search of his noble one.
For on her dying bed Symbil had told him to hunt for her to the end of the world.
So aunt Tressie was rewarded for her time had come.
For he loved her more than ever, she was his shining sun.
Symbil had been his lovely child wife,
But Tressie is his noble one.
She had thought of the pleasures of others and to them was true,
Her reward has come and she is the nobler of the two.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

FOREIGNERS BUY COTTON LANDS

Memphis, Tenn., June 24.—A syndicate headed by direct representatives of Albert the First, king of the Belgians, is expected in Memphis tomorrow to close a deal for five hundred thousand acres of cotton producing lands in Mississippi. They will raise cotton to export to Belgium and European points. A five thousand acre plantation owned by Scott Miller has already been sold for $300,000 and options on others secured.

The property joins that secured by Englishmen two months ago for the same purpose. Practically an entire county is now owned by foreigners.

CHEROKEES WILL SEE WRITINGS OF FATHERS

Within a fortnight the remnants of the tribe of Cherokee Indians now living in North Carolina will be given the first chance in years to see the original documents of their tribal songs and prayers that were committed to writing in the Cherokee language early in the last century. These records, written by the Indians themselves, have been in the bureau of ethnology in Washington for the last twenty-five years. They were found and collected by James Mooney of the bureau, who was practically adopted as a member of the tribe, and during his six years of residence with them they were partly compiled and translated into English and put into such shape as to be available for the scientific man and the student of ethnology. In the interval the most of Mr. Mooney's Indian work has been with the plains tribes of the Southwest, but he is now to be sent to the scene of his earlier labors and will complete the compilation of the old records with the aid of the old men of the tribe.

The very fact that there are Cherokee Indians in North Carolina will be news to many people, and the fact that they have an alphabet and a written language of their own will be news to more. It is one of the most romantic stories in the history of primitive peoples. It is the only occasion in modern history where an illiterate people have developed a written language of their own. The fact that the idea came from the whites detracts very little from the wonder of the achievement.

The man who gave the Cherokees their alphabet was Sequoyah, a member of the tribe and the man in honor of whom the big trees of the Pacific coast were given their name. He commenced working on the written language for the tribe in 1809, and the written language was officially adopted by the Cherokees in 1820.—New State Tribune.

PARTICULARS OF DEATH OF NORMAN BOURLAND

About 8 o'clock Wednesday evening a telephone message was received here stating that Norman Bourland had been killed a few miles from Coalgate. Details of the tragedy are very meager and about all that is known is that he and a young man were riding along the road, Norman carrying a Winchester rifle, the butt of the gun resting on his foot with the muzzle pointing upward. The gun slipped off his foot the hammer striking the top of the stirrup with sufficient force to discharge it. The ball passed through his head, killing him instantly. The body was carried to Coalgate and a number of his relatives left here that night on the 12 o'clock train to bring the body to Stonewall for burial arriving here at 3:40 Thursday.

Norman Bourland was born on the present site of Stonewall, and grew to manhood in this vicinity remaining here until last winter when he moved to a ranch near Coalgate.

His mother, Mrs. W. E. Little, and sister, Mrs. Jim Vincent and other relatives have the sympathy of the entire community in this sad affair.—Stonewall News.
